

BLOODY FIGHT
IN DARK AFTER NIGHT AMBUSH

Bulletins From Scene of College
Battle Say Attacking Forces Swooped Down on Enemy, Who Made Desperate Resistance.

AND IT WAS ALL OVER GOLD CLASS CUP

Shurtleff Freshmen and Juniors
Surprised Seniors and Sophs Coming in Carriages From Banquet, but Were Routed.

At 11:30 o'clock Wednesday night a fierce fight was made by the freshmen and junior forces of Shurtleff College, Upper Alton, Ill., on their hereditary enemies,
the seniors and sophomores, the engagement beginning with a cunning ambush and then being waged in the open with both armies drawn out in full line of battle.

There had been a sort of treachery
between the opposing forces, each relying on its arms, and early hostilities were
not expected by the people of Alton, accustomed as they are to the unending war
of the college classes. As a consequence
the pitched battle of Wednesday night
caused unusual excitement and the bulletins of the fray are being discussed Thursday with the keenest interest.

The attack was made as the seniors and sophomores were returning in open order from Reilly Heights, a commanding position which they could have defended against any number of the enemy. The seniors had given a banquet to the sophomores on the heights, during the course of which they presented the sophomores with a beautiful and costly gold class cup. At the close of the banquet, temporarily forgetting the fact that there was always danger in a night return to the college when scouts had not posted them as to the movements of the freshmen and juniors,
the two confident seniors and sophomores abandoned their position of vantage on Reilly Heights and descended into the lower country. Their march back to Shurtleff College was begun as a mounted force, that is, they were in two carriages, hired from Frank Lehr, a lively stable man, one driven by James Boyd, a noncombatant.

Attack on Carriages.

All went well until a secluded point on Garden street in Upper Alton was reached. Here, the advancing forces having neglected to throw out pickets ahead of their column, were suddenly and vigorously charged by a body of about 15 freshmen and juniors and, before they had time to rally from the panic of the first onslaught, they were driven from their carriages, the traces out and the driver compelled to gallop the horses off the field of battle.

The panic of the seniors and sophomores,
however, was but momentary, and suddenly they formed themselves into a Gordon Highlanders' column of fours and charged upon their ambushers with tremendous impetus. It was a desperate hand-to-hand fight from that time forward, a battle in the dark, with shouts and curses
and the dull thud of blows with fists and sticks, the groans of the wounded filling the middle of the night. The prize of victory for which the combat was waged was the new class cup of the sophomores, and it was for this trophy
must be defended to the death.

The veteran seniors stood the brunt of the shock of the attacking forces, gallantly supported by the sophomores, and the juniors of the attacking party led the repeated charges with the utmost valour, being aided and abetted by the freshmen in the actual crash of encounter.
Eyes were blacked, noses were broken,
by hostile fists and resisting teeth, and the clothing of the struggling combatants was in several instances torn from their bodies until they fought almost stripped of bodies. This was especially the case with Ellis Edwell of the senior class, who, it is said, had hardly a rag to his back when
the battle ended.

Third Foe on Scene.

And the battle ended only through the appearance of a third foe on the field.
Lehr, owner of the carriages, had been summoned, along with Town Marshal John Hill, by the alarm of Shurtleff College in the vicinity of the battle. Lehr was the first to arrive, and drawing a revolver, he rushed in between the opposing lines of battle and, by threats of shooting, managed to compel both to draw off from the scene and retreat to Shurtleff under cover of the night. Town Marshal Hill arrived a few moments later, prepared to make arrests by wholesale, but the class lights
had vanished and the night was too dark for him to proceed. He, too, had passed into history.

Victory perched upon the standards of the seniors and sophomores, in a sense, inasmuch as the sophomores still hold the cup presented them by the seniors. It is expected that the authorities of Shurtleff College will begin an investigation Thursday for the purpose of fixing the responsibility for the battle and punishing those who took the initiative. In the meantime war news from the scene of the battle in Alton and it is hoped that Shurtleff will not establish a Russo-Japanese press correspondent to prevent further knowledge of all the stirring details.

Mr. Hamm Returns Home.

L. F. Hamm, whose disappearance after notifying his family that he was on his way home, excited the residents of Kirksville for 24 hours, returned to his home at 18 North of the senior class, who, it is said, had hardly a rag to his back when
the battle ended.

THUNDERSTORMS; COOLER.

Forecaster Promises Springlike
Showers and Winds, Followed by Lower Temperature.

A combination of April showers and March winds, with a few peals of thunder thrown in for general springlike effect, is the present weather outlook. The official forecast is:
"Showers and thunderstorms tonight and Friday.
Cooler Friday,
Brisak, southerly,
becoming westerly,
winds Friday."
From the Rocky Mountains eastward the temperature has risen,
save over the North Atlantic and west gulf coasts.
In the Ohio and Upper Mississippi
valleys frost pre-valled, also in eastern Tennessee and the North Atlantic states. Rain is reported from the Pacific coast, western Wyoming and Colorado. Showers also fell in Oklahoma, northwestern Texas, Arkansas, northern Louisiana, western Tennessee and Mississippi.

There had been a sort of treachery
between the opposing forces, each relying on its arms, and early hostilities were
not expected by the people of Alton, accustomed as they are to the unending war
of the college classes. As a consequence
the pitched battle of Wednesday night
caused unusual excitement and the bulletins of the fray are being discussed Thursday with the keenest interest.

United Railways' Retiring President Denies Brown Bros. Dictated Transit Co.'s Policy.

CAMPBELL'S PARTICIPATION

Received $100,000, Holding Only One Share in One Company and 20 in Another.

Murray Carleton, retiring president of the United Railways Co., testified Thursday morning in the suit of Cella, Adler & Tilles against Brown Bros. of New York, under this week in control of the United Railways property. The testimony was given before Special Master in Chancery Rabbitt in the Federal building, with Judge Henry W.
Bond representing the plaintiffs and Judge
Henry E. Priest, the defendants.

Witness was asked how many shares of Transit Co. stock he held Sept. 27, 1904, but Judge Priest objected to his answering and the objection was sustained.

"You held 200 shares, did you not?"

"Yes."

"How many shares were held by Cella, Adler & Tilles?"

"Between 10,000 and 11,000 shares."

"Did you share in the allotment of participations?"

Objected to and objection sustained.

"You have already sworn that you received $100,000 in the participation?"

"Yes."

"How many shares did James Campbell hold?"

"I do not know."

"Did you then testify that it was untrue
that Brown Brothers dictated the policy of the Transit company? They could count on the support of the entire board of directors if their policy was as they stated
it was, and you were a director?"

Admiral Rojestvensky's Squadron
Still at Anchor in Kamranh

Arrival of Reinforcements.

ADMIRAL TRAIN, U. S. N.,
KEEPING SHARP LOOKOUT.

Station's Fleet in Such a Manner That Czar's Ships Will Be Unable to Violate the Terms of This Government's Neutrality.

SAIGON, French Coochin China, April 20.—Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron is still at anchor in Kamranh Bay and is said to be waiting reinforcements from Admiral Nebogoff's squadron. The French admiral, Jonquieres is in the vicinity and, despite the objections of the Japanese, says he is maintaining strict neutrality.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Rojestvensky's ships still hug the shore, if not actually the ports of French Indo-China. Admiral Train reports to the navy department, except the fast cruisers, which the Russian fleet's commander has sent out to prey on Japanese commerce.

Togo's ships are lying in wait, it is believed somewhere near Formosa.

Admiral Train has carefully posted warships to prevent the Baltic squadron from surprisingly securing a naval base in his jurisdiction, trying to steal through some convenient Philippine channel in the Pacific ocean, violating United States neutrality, in any other way, or provoking a naval battle in American waters.

He has taken the greatest care in distributing his vessels, because various straits in the Philippines offer convenient passage into the Pacific ocean to the Russian fleet, and because France's seeming indifference to Admiral Rojestvensky's prolonged stay in a French port, as reported,
has intensely angered Japan.

Admiral Train cables daily to the navy department here what he learns of the movements of both the Russian and Japanese fleets. The department regards these reports as confidential.

Only one has been made public—that which announced the arrival of the Russian hospital ship 'Orel' at Saigon, which was published Saturday. The young naval officer who told of this also betrayed Admiral Train's deductions that the fleet might also meet in battle in American waters.

The indirect officer's superior told him
he might have as well sent a copy of the dispatch to the Japanese legation.

All the ships Admiral Train has posted, except the battleship Wisconsin, are small gunboats, but they carry the flag.

The Paragua is at Jolo, the Mindoro at Pollok, the Wisconsin at Olongapo, the Quintos is cruising in the Lingayen gulf, and the Dale and the Decatur are cruising off the island of Palawan. These points make a complete chain of vessels of observation around those parts of the archipelago that seem at all likely to be visited by either belligerent.

JAPS AND THEIR ALLIES
ATTEMPT TURNING MOVE.

GUNSHU PASS, April 20.—The Russians have discovered a turning movement 80 miles northeast of Kunshungtsi (about 30 miles northeast of Gunshu Pass) by two hundred Chinese bandits, and several forces of 200 Chinese cavalry and 20 guns.
Kunshungtsi is identical with Changchung,
the extreme right of Gen. Linerich's main front, which extends thence toward Kirm.

Attorney-General Hadley Declares
He Already Has Evidence

COMMISSIONER GARFIELD

After a Week's Inspection in Kan-

Collected.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 20.—Missouri already has evidence enough to make a good case against the Standard Oil Co.,
according to State's Attorney-General Hadley, and this information was greatly added to today when Mr. Hadley had a long private conference with James R. Garfield, United States commissioner of corporations.

Before going into the conference, Mr.
Hadley said: "We have already secured enough evidence to prove that the Standard Oil Co. has been violating the laws of Missouri in monopolizing the oil products of the state."

PHYSICIAN TAKES HIS LIFE.

DENVER, April 20.—After administering bled to death. He was under indictment for illegal use of the opiate. The physician came here from Belle Fourche, S. D., where he had served one term as mayor.

NEW YORK, April 20.—If the statements of her attorneys count for aught, Nan Patterson, the former actress, on trial for the murder of Cesar Young, will present a much stronger defense when the hearing of testimony is begun next Monday, than at her former trial, at which the jury disagreed.

"We have many new witnesses," said
Attorney Levy, chief counsel for the defense, today, "and will establish Miss Patterson's innocence beyond the shadow of a doubt. The last time we made a mistake in relying on the failure of the prosecution to prove its case, for an acquittal. This time we will prove our client's innocence."

Miss Patterson expressed her pleasure at the composition of the jury, which was completed yesterday, and disappointment at the delay in postponing the taking of testimony until Monday.

"I am sure of an acquittal this time,"
she told Lawyer Levy, "and every day only adds to my misery in the Tombs. Ten months and three weeks is a long time to be shut up in prison."

Widow of First Missouri Railroad Commissioner Expires in Memphis, Mo.

A telegram notified Mrs. John B. Breathitt of the Washington Hotel that her mother, Mrs. Mary A. Downing, died suddenly Thursday morning in Memphis, Mo.

Mrs. Downing was the widow of the first railroad commissioner of Missouri and is well known in St. Louis, where she has lived for many years, and throughout the state.

She had gone to Memphis, which was her former home, to look after some property interests, and, although advanced in years, she was thought to be in vigorous health. The cause of her sudden demise is not known here.

She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Breathitt of St. Louis and Mrs. Samuel Griffith of Kansas City, and five sons, two of whom reside in California, one in Little Rock, Ark., and one in southern Missouri and one in New York.

During Mr. Downing's political career
Mrs. Downing was much admired on account of her exceptional mental gifts, which were a great aid to her husband in his career, and throughout her life she retained the warm friendship of those she met during that period. Her later friends in St. Louis, who are also very numerous, will be shocked by her sudden departure from life.

No details of the funeral have been decided upon.

Farmer, Whose Crops Had Been

SAYS VICTIM ADMONISHED RAISED HIS GUN TO FIRE

At 9 o'clock Thursday morning Christ
Selmer shot and killed John Huff on How's island, opposite Hamburg, about 12 miles northwest of St. Charles, Mo., on the Missouri river, the killing being the outcome of a feud over a lawsuit.

Selmer is 42 years old, married and has four children, and Huff was 55 years old and left a widow and one daughter. Both men live on the island.

On April 10 a decision in a lawsuit between Selmer and a man named Labiche, who owns How's island, for possession of a piece of property on the island, was decided in favor of Selmer by Judge Hoesch in the County Court. Following this decision Selmer resumed work on his crops on the island which had been involved in the lawsuit.

A few days ago according to Selmer's story, an unidentified person cut the fences surrounding this property, permitting cattle to enter Selmer's farm and inflict injury to his growing crops. Thursday morning Selmer was patrolling his land, armed with a shotgun. He says that shortly before 9 o'clock he saw Huff, who was foreman of the island in Labiche's employ, carrying a gun, come to the edge of his field and make an opening in the fence,
the previous openings having been repaired and closed.

Selmer then, according to his own story,
called out to Huff, telling him to quit cutting fences and go away from his farm.

In answer to this warning, Selmer says,
Huff raised his gun and aimed it at Huff.
The latter threw his own gun quickly to his shoulder and fired, the shot penetrating
Huff's breast and killing him instantly.

Hellner then went in where Huff lay dead, taking his gun, left the scene of the killing, going direct to the farmhouse of F. Buner, also living on the island, to whom he told of his killing of Huff.

In company with this neighbor, Hellner
rowed across the Missouri river in a skiff to Hamburg and surrendered himself to the authorities.

The news of the killing was reported to
St. Charles and at 11 o'clock Thursday
Deputy Sheriff J. L. Mape, Prosecuting
Attorney C. C. Brewer, Sheriff Hines and Deputy Sheriff went to Hamburg, where Selmer was taken into custody by Sheriff Hines.

Selmer told the county officers the story of the killing, asserting that he acted in self-defense.

CARNEGIES ARE RECONCILED TO CUPID'S PRANK

Mother of "Ironmaster's" Niece, Who Married Coachman, Alone Among Relatives in Refusing to Receive Daughter at Her Home.

ELOPERS GUESTS AT STEEL KING'S HOME.

Romance of Heiress and Her Groom Begun in South—Relatives Refuse to Tell Where Marriage Took Place.

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, April 20.—Cupid played a strange prank when he involved the niece of Andrew Carnegie and James Hever, the stableman, in his meshes, as told in late editions of yesterday's Post-Dispatch. Their positions were miles apart, although they saw one another frequently through their common interest in horses. The marriage was practically an elopement, and none of the family will say where the actual ceremony took place.

Hever left Mrs. Carnegie's employ after telling the rich widow that he loved Miss Nancy. At that time the Carnegie family was living at "Dungeness," an island midway between Jekyll Island and Fernand, Fla. Miss Carnegie followed Hever north and the marriage was celebrated with none of her relatives present. Directly afterward, Mr. and Mrs. Hever went abroad. They returned Sunday for the first time, bringing a baby girl.

Mrs. Carnegie is still unbending, although Mrs. Hever's brothers, William Coleman Carnegie and Andrew Carnegie II, Mrs. O. G. Ricketson, a sister, and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie welcomed the Hevers at the White Star pier. Mrs. Hever's other sister, Mrs. Frederick C. Perkins, and her brother, George Lauder Carnegie, took the mother's side. The Hevers have been at the Andrew Carnegie house in Fifth avenue several times since their return.

Hever was a widower when he entered the employ of Mrs. Thomas Carnegie. He had been a riding master at Newport when the Carnegies had a cottage there. As the season in Newport was waning, Mrs. Carnegie offered him a place as groom on her daughter's recommendation. The Carnegies returned to Pittsburgh with Hever in their train.

Miss Carnegie is an ardent horsewoman and Hever rode with her in Pittsburgh and later at the island winter home. The mother, meanwhile, was eager about furthering her daughter's future socially. Miss Nancy had a dot that would cause most fathers to take notice, and when Miss Alice Shaw, an intimate friend and family connection of Miss Carnegie, became engaged to the Earl of Yarmouth, Mrs. Carnegie thought a similar alliance most desirable.

It was in 1904 that her fondness for Hever was made known. Hever declared himself to Mrs. Carnegie. Up to that time he had enjoyed privileges denied to grooms. Often he would have tea with the family and would play tennis with Miss Carnegie's brothers.

Miss Nancy had never driven a coach and wished to master the art. A coach was sent to "Dungeness," and Hever undertook to teach her. It was during these lessons that they came to talk of love.

Hever's little girl, by his former marriage, has become a member of the new household, and his wife has practically embraced the Roman Catholic religion, although she was an Episcopalian. The child is christened Florence.

Miss Nancy Carnegie was looked upon as the greatest heiress of the country until the birth of Andrew Carnegie's daughter, Margaret. Miss Nancy had been her uncle's favorite niece. He always called her "Little Nancy." Mrs. Hever has a comfortable income in her own right.

HORSE FALLS ON MAN IN HOLE

Race Between Teamsters Ends When One Drives Into Excavation, Imprisoning Workman Below.

Henry Smith 708 Market street, a teamster for Frank Sutton of 717 Park avenue, is in the hospital charged with reckless driving, which nearly terminated in the injury of Patrick Connors, a street sewer excavator, at 227 North Broadway, Wednesday afternoon.

Smith and another teamster were racing down the street and failed to observe the excavation under the street which connected the sewer with a building being erected.

Smith drove his team too near the hole and one of his horses fell into the excavation, his forefeet striking Connors, who was excavating below. Connors was injured but was not imprisoned in the hole until the horse was taken out with ropes.

SUED FOR PEAR CROP.

St. Louis Commission Merchant Gets Judgment Against Fruit Grower.

Henry L. Segal, a St. Louis commission merchant, was given a judgment for $153 against Z. H. Calame, a fruit grower at Melville, Madison county, in Justice of the Peace James P. Thornton's court in Alton Wednesday afternoon, on alleged breach of contract.

Last October, the evidence showed, Calame sold the crop of pears in his orchard to Segal, it being estimated there were 200 bushels of pears, the purchaser to pay 45 cents per bushel and Segal to send a team to Calame to place the pears in. Before the fruit was delivered, Calame sold the crop to Crivello of Alton at 60 cents per bushel and sent the $100 to Segal, who refused to accept it.

Segal brought suit against Calame for damages in the sum of $200, and was given $153 and the costs of the suit by Justice Thornton.

MRS. SCHULTE LAID AT REST.

Many Mourn for Wife of Savings Bank Cashier.

There was a very large attendance at the funeral of Mrs. Amelia Schulte, wife of Michael Schulte, cashier of the Northwestern Savings Bank, which took place Wednesday afternoon from the family residence, 4290 Kossuth avenue, to Calvary cemetery. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful. A large piece was sent by the officers and directors of the bank.

Mrs. Schulte was 39 years old. She had been married to Mr. Schulte 17 years. Besides her husband she left six children, Adeline, Walter, Victor, William, Mildred and Ruth, whose ages range from 2 to 15 years. She had been ill a week. Death was due to septic fever.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—After waiting three years, the name of S. F. Scott of Kansas City has been cleared and he has been reinstated as clerk in the registry division of the Kansas City postoffice. He was suspended in December, 1901.

Ball Player Married.

Ed Beecher, a well-known South St. Louis ball player playing with the Memphis team in the Southern League, was married Wednesday to Miss Emma Aldendorf of 232 South Ninth street.

Mudge Goes to Rock Island.

In May, 1901, a registered letter containing $8000, which passed through Scott's division, disappeared. Inquiry resulted in a report which was followed by Scott's suspension. Later evidence was secured upon which James A. Flagg, a clerk in the same division, was tried and convicted.

Mudge, general manager of the Santa Fe, is to go to the Rock Island as second vice-president and is to have full charge of the operation of all its lines.

Cause for Regret.

"I suppose you have said some things you were sorry for in your public career," answered Senator Sorghum. "I once said 'yes' to $50,000 when I might just as well have had $100,000."

FINDS HUSBANDS HERE FOR GIRLS OF NATIVE LAND

Mme. Rosa Makes Yearly Trips to Italy and Returns With Marriageable Bees—San Francisco Her Operating Point.

SHE REPORTS BUSINESS AS FAIRLY PROFITABLE.

Plan Is to Employ the Young Women in Factories and Then Exact Fees Before Giving Them in Marriage.

CHICAGO, April 19.—In the Canal street railroad station, Mme. Rosa, a little Italian woman, fussed and scolded in her effort to keep together a chattering host of young Italian girls.

They were en route from Italy to San Francisco, on their way to fortune and marriage. Mme. Rosa is a matrimonial bureau all in herself.

Bright silk handkerchiefs tying down their dark curly hair; short, bright skirts, ankle high; their dark Italian faces sparkling with happiness and hopes of all good things in America, the girls examined the other travelers as frankly, laughing and pointing and commenting in rapid Italian as the other travelers examined them.

"They my cousins, alla cousins," Mme. Rosa explained, turning to discharge a rapid fire of Italian at three girls who had left the group to peep into the ticket seller's cage. "They like see everything," she laughed. "We goin' bye and bye in wagon, see alla Chicago. I goin' buy them all hats alla sama like yours, only plants flowers—red, pretty."

The girls evidently asked for a translation of the conversation, which Mme. Rosa accorded.

"I Americano," she said, with swelling pride. "I Union Pacific Rail!" She untied the knots of a kerchief, teeth assisting nimble fingers, unwrapped more kerchiefs, and exhibited 20 tickets, protected by little medals of all the saints. "I buy alla lotta now," she said. "Myself, I not cost nothing. I Union Pacific Rail!" by which it was inferred that she had a pass over that road.

Nine years ago Mme. Rosa first came to America. She worked in a California fruit cannery factory during the season, from May to October. She made from $2 to $3 a day, living as Italians do on bread and wine, and saved some $300. In the autumn, like most Italians, she was homesick for Naples, where she was born and played as a bare-legged child in the streets along the water. She went home full of wonderful tales of America, the great new country.

An Italian girl who does not marry by the time she is 20 is a family disgrace. But how can they marry when so many of the young men come to America?

"I take you America; I pay alla expense; I getta you work by my boss in San Francisco," she told the girls, and their parents. The girls were ready to sail on the next ship.

"You make mon, you paya me back. A little more, too," she stipulated. She had a priest draw up an agreement between herself and each girl.

Six came the first spring. The "boss" at the cannery factory was only too glad to get them to work. Mme. Rosa rented two rooms and set up housekeeping. She picked out husbands for the girls. But no marriages till the season was over. She chaperoned the girls like a dragon and collected a bonus from each husband when the time came. There was a little bonus from the "boss," too.

With it all, and her own wages, Mme. Rosa did well, and gave them her blessing and went back to Naples to return each year with a new flock. Last autumn she stopped off at Chicago, where the Italian colony she had heard of Mr. Wantland, the Union Pacific land agent. She wanted a part. "I make America much rich country," she told him.

Mr. Wantland is used to demands for passes, but a little old Italian peasant woman in her red kerchief was the first of her kind to ask. Mme. Rosa does not know just how it was fixed up, but she is proud to say she has a "Union Pacific Rail" card, and that there is no other road and no one else but Mr. Wantland worth considering.

Mme. Rosa has a day on her schedule to show Chicago to the girls, and an express wagon to take them about in and buy the new hats. There is a stop at Omaha and time for visiting the girls who have come the time the first cannery factory opens its doors. Mme. Rosa will be settled at housekeeping and ready with her girls when work is over. There will be picnics when the cannery is slack for fruit in summer, and there will be a big wedding with crowds filling the quaint old Church of St. Francis and new homes set up of Americans in San Francisco's Little Italy.

Blake Bros. Sell Residence.
John S. Blake & Bro. have sold the seven-room brick residence at 612½ Wagner avenue, in St. Louis County, with lot 47.7x 116, from George Adam Manager. Mrs. Amy Dardis for $300. This sale was made by James C. Eddy, salesman for John S. Blake & Bro.

Press Commission Office Here.
River dispatches say that the office of the secretary of the Mississippi river commission will remain undisturbed in St. Louis. The decision was reached Wednesday at a conference between the secretary of war and Col. Ernst, head of the commission. The decision has met with the approval of Gen. Mackenzie of the general staff of the army, who is in direct control of the river and the harbor improvements.

ALTON WILL RAISE TAX LEVY.

City Must Raise $20,000 to Pay Water Bills.

By the failure of the proposition to issue $20,000 in bonds to pay the water bills owed by the city of Alton to the New England Waterworks Co. to carry at the election on Tuesday the tax levy of the city will be raised in order to make up the $20,000 in one year.

Judge Otis Humphreys of the United States court says that the debt must be paid, as per an order from his court, and he will mandamus the City Council and direct that a tax levy be made on the next assessment of taxes for the payment of the water bills. This will be added to the taxes, all in a lump, because it is the decree of the court that the bills must be paid within a year.

CHANGED WEDDING PLANS.

Tancred P. Eggman and Miss Forman Are Quietly Wed.

Illness of the bride's sister caused a change in the wedding arrangements of Tancred P. Eggman, son of Emil I. Eggman, and Miss Katie Forman, daughter of C. M. Forman, who were quietly married Wednesday night at the home of the bride's parents, 201 Brighton place, East St. Louis, Ill. Only immediate relatives of the bride and bridegroom attended the ceremony and the wedding supper. The Rev. John Westcott of Flora, Ill., performed the ceremony. The young couple have given up their plans for a wedding journey and are living in their new home at 1567 Baugh avenue.

From the Philadelphia Press.
"You've been calling on Gayboy's daughter so long it's a wonder he hasn't asked you to marry her," said a friend to a young man who was looking at a girl in a crowd.
"But I never see him, you know. I never get to his house until 8 o'clock and I always leave before 2 in the morning."

HIS TOMBSTONE FOR ANOTHER.

Civil War Veteran Complains of Loss of Gravemark.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
COLUMBUS, O., April 20.—A complaint was made to Adjutant-General A. B. Critchfield today by Joseph McHaffey, a veteran of the civil war, that some one had drawn from the county the gravestone to which he is entitled and erected it at another man's grave.

McHaffey went to Massachusetts 30 years ago and recently returned to find himself dead and buried. He wants the record cleared so as to entitle him to a grave stone from the state when he dies.

Fallen Angel Cake.

From Judge.
Mr. Newwood: Did you say this was angel cake, darling?
Mrs. Newwood: Yes, dearest. Why didn't it rise?
Mr. Newwood: Well, I would suggest that you call it fallen-angel cake.

ZOLEZZI GAMBLING CHARGE IS HEARD

Excise Commissioner Considers Case Against Saloon Keeper, Following Post-Dispatch Disclosures.

Excise Commissioner Mulvihill has taken under advisement the case of Louis Zolezzi, proprietor of a saloon at Seventh and Morgan streets, who was given a hearing Wednesday on a charge of permitting gambling in his saloon, following disclosures made in the Post-Dispatch April 10 that a craps game was being run in the basement of the saloon.

The Post-Dispatch reporters, who visited and participated in the game for the purpose of investigation, testified that they had entered the saloon and had been informed by the bartender of the craps game in the basement. They also told of his explanation of the electric button under the bar, by which the lights in the basement could be controlled and the players signaled if there was danger of a raid by the police. He explained the game in which they played.

Zolezzi was not represented by counsel. He testified that he did not know anything of the game, and that if there had been gambling there he knew nothing of it. The bartender was not present at the hearing. He explained that the tables described by the reporters were pool tables for plegen pool, and that the basement was lighted for people who wished a social game of cards.

ITHACA, N. Y., April 20.—Two Cornell students, whose names cannot be learned, but who are from Argentine Republic, have been missing since yesterday afternoon, when they rented a canoe and started out upon Lake Cayuga. When leaving the boat house they had a quarrel with a man with a canoe and it is feared their craft capsized and they were drowned.

Thousands of Women ARE MADE WELL AND STRONG

Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Rests Upon the Fact that It Really Does Make Sick Women Well

Thousands upon thousands of American women have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. These letters are on file in Mrs. Pinkham's office, and prove this statement to be a fact and not a mere boast.

Overshadowing indeed is the success of this great medicine, and compared with it all other medicines and treatments for women are experiments.

Why has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound accomplished its widespread results for good?

Why has it lived and thrived and done its glorious work for a quarter of a century?

Simply and surely because of its sterling worth. The reason no other medicine has even approached its success is plainly and positively because there is no other medicine in the world so good for women's ills.

The wonderful power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is not because it is a stimulant—not because it is a palliative, but simply because it is the most wonderful tonic and reconstructive ever discovered to act directly upon the uterine system, positively curing disease and displacements and restoring health and vigor.

Marvelous cures are reported from all parts of the country by women who have been cured, trained nurses who have witnessed cures, and physicians who have recognized the virtue in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and are fair enough to give credit where it is due. If physicians dared to be frank and open, hundreds of them would acknowledge that they constantly prescribe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in severe cases of female ills, as they know by experience that it will effect a cure.

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, headache, bloating (or flatulency), eczema, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration, or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences and be restored to health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Anyway, write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice. It's free and always helpful.

CERTAIN GRAINS ARE DISCOVERED TO RESIST RUST

Government Experts Make Public
Lessons Learned From the General Attack of the Agricultural Epidemic During Last Year.

SECRETARY WILSON ISSUES A BULLETIN

M. A. Carleton's Information
Gained During Aerial Investigations Is Given Out—Oat Rust Is Also Extensively Treated.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Interesting lessons from the grain rust epidemic of 1904 are contained in a bulletin recently issued under authority of Secretary Wilson and prepared by Mark Alfred Carleton, cerealist, in charge of cereal investigations for the bureau of plant industry of the department of agriculture.

By far the most important thing to be learned from the general rust attack of 1904, which was seriously felt in North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota, and in parts of Iowa, Wisconsin, Nebraska and Kansas and to the north in Canada, is held by Mr. Carleton to be that certain kinds of wheat and other grains are sufficiently resistant to rust to give a good average yield when the disease is of its worst. This lesson was not thoroughly learned until last year. Other lessons are constant, and, through selection of seed, good grainage and clean cultivation of the soil, and the fact that certain rusted grasses spread the rust infection.

Durum Varieties More Resistant.

Mr. Carleton finds that while wheats of the durum varieties are more resistant to rust than the common varieties, there is great variation in this respect among the durum varieties themselves, and also among the common varieties. All durum varieties do not resist rust in the same degree, and on the other hand a few of the common varieties are immune to a slight extent even in a bad rust season.

The variety, Immune, is given as standing first in rust resistance and the variety, Velvet Don, second. Both are durum varieties.

The importance of growing hard winter wheats is emphasized in Iowa and other states. "It has now been determined," says Mr. Carleton, "that it is not possible to grow winter wheat all over Nebraska and Iowa, in the greater part of South Dakota, and even in portions of Wisconsin, Minnesota and North Dakota."

"In previous publications of the department of agriculture attention has been called several times to the fact that winter wheat, when it can survive the winter, will always produce a much better crop on the same farm than spring wheat. At the same time, if the proper varieties are used, the quality of the grain will be just as good on an average as the hard spring wheats. It has been stated with particular emphasis that winter wheat, by having a stronger root growth and starting out more vigorously in the spring and ripening much earlier, is able to escape to a great extent the disastrous effect of a rust epidemic, as well as the attacks of other fungi and insects. It will also often escape the effects of drought, which usually seize in about harvest time or little earlier."

"The ability of winter wheat to escape rust has been shown very clearly the past season. In many cases this wheat has remained almost as free from rust as the durum varieties, but because of its earliness, while the durum wheats resisted the rust."

As to rust-resistant oats, there has not yet been found the degree of rust resistance in oat varieties that exist in certain wheat varieties. Many varieties of so-called rust proof oats, in the South, resist rust to a considerable degree, when taken north are found to succumb to rust ravages. The way out of the difficulty recommended for the farmer in the North is to use very early varieties. At the present time, two of the most valuable varieties in the United States are the Sixth Day and the Early, both of which have been introduced by the Department of Agriculture in recent years from Southwestern Russia.

PRESBYTERY FAVORS UNION.

St. Louis Ministers Indorse Consolidation With Cumberland.

After an eloquent address by Dr. Samuel J. Nicolls, of Second Presbyterian Church, who moved his hearers to tears, the St. Louis presbytery voted Wednesday in favor of consolidation with the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

Spirited arguments had been delivered from both sides but the motion to consolidate was carried by a vote of 20 to 10. Among the objections raised by Rev. H. C. Jones, Rev. H. H. Gregg, Rev. Dr. M. C. Williams and others were that the Cumberland Presbyterians, especially the laymen, did not desire the union; that the union with the Cumberland was impossible because they did not indorse all the creed of Presbyterians.

Catarth of nose or throat immediately relieved and ultimately cured by use of "Boro-Formalin" (Elmer & Amend).

ST. LOUIS MUSEUM ELECTION.

Twenty-Five Directors to Be Chosen Next Tuesday.

Twenty-five directors will be elected at the first annual meeting of the St. Louis Museum, which will be held at the Mercantile Club at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, April 24. Reports will be given by the present officers on the collections for the museum, amounting to $250,000 in value, and their installation in the west annex of the art pavilion at Forest Park. An invitation to attend the meeting is extended to all residents of St. Louis who are interested.

The membership dues have been established and a corps of experts are at work arranging the museum.

Shot Twice in Fight.

William Schumaker, aged 45, of 102 High street, is in the City Hospital with two bullet wounds in the right leg, inflicted by Michael Presinger, aged 26, of 1113 High street, during a fight in an alley on Piddle street near Twelfth street, Sergt. James Morn and Patrolman Redmond of the Fourth District heard the shots and ran to the scene of the shooting. They found the wounded man lying on the ground begging for mercy and Presinger standing over him with a revolver in his hand. Presinger was sent to the Fourth District station, where he is held.

RAMSEY LEAVES GOULD TERMINALS

Wabash President Quits Management of Pittsburg Road He Secured After Dispute.

Owing to lack of harmony between President Joseph Ramsey, Jr., of the Wabash railroad and the Gould interests which own the road, regarding the management of the Wabash-Pittsburg Terminal Railway Co., Mr. Ramsey has resigned as president of the latter company and been succeeded by Frederick A. Delano.

Mr. Ramsey announced Wednesday night that his resignation had been accepted at a meeting of the board of directors in New York. It had been offered twice. The annual meeting of the Wabash does not take place until October, and it is not expected that there will be any change in Mr. Ramsey's relations with that company before that time.

WORK UNSUITED TO YOUNG HARRIMAN

Millionaire Cousin of Railroad Magnate Abandons Attempt to Earn Daily Bread.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

OMAHA, Neb., April 20.—"I have enjoyed the novelty of working for my daily bread. I consider it to be of the utmost importance for every young man to know how to work, whether he is compelled to or not."

With these words young Herbert N. Harriman, a cousin of the great railroad man and son of the late Oliver Harriman of New York, abandoned his attempt to learn practical railroad work. Then he left Omaha for his home in Westbury, L. I. That his success has not been greater is in no sense due to his lack of determination. A millionaire probably twice over in his own right, young Harriman gave up the pleasures of New York society to come to Omaha and take a position as clerk in the general auditing offices of the Union Pacific.

For nearly five months he has faithfully tackled the duties of the position, but his superiors say he has been too long accustomed to look upon life as one continual round of pleasure to become a railroad man. To add a simple column of figures seemed utterly beyond his endurance.

When he came to Omaha he declared his intention of living within his salary. A junior clerk in the auditing office is paid $1 a week, but Harriman found this entirely inadequate and frequent drafts were made on his private resources.

MRS. DIECKMANN'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of Mrs. Fredericka Dieckmann, who died Tuesday evening at the age of 72 of pneumonia, will be held Friday morning from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Fredericka Dieckmann, 333 Labadie avenue, to Black Jack Cemetery, in St. Louis County.

Mrs. Dieckmann was born in Germany and came to America in her childhood. She lived for many years on Columbia Bottom road, and after her children had married and gone to homes of their own, she continued to live there alone. She was taken ill about five weeks ago with pneumonia, which developed into pneumonia a week ago. Two weeks ago Mrs. Dieckmann took her to her own home, where she died. She is survived by Philip and William Dieckmann, sons, and Mrs. Dieckmann and Mrs. Anna Borgmann, daughters.

WEIRD CHAPTER TO OLD MURDER COMES TO LIGHT

Two Men in West Virginia Are Indicted for Almost-Forgotten Crime, Which Was Committed Twelve Years Ago.

GIRL WITNESS TO DEED NOW TURNS INFORMER.

Hargis, the Man Who Was Killed, Is Related to the Kentucky Family Which Figured in the Breathitt County Feud.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 2.—John Lyons and James Moore, brothers-in-law, have been indicted by the Clay County grand jury for the murder of Henry Hargis, which is supposed to have occurred 12 years ago. Hargis disappeared and was believed to have been murdered for his money. The years passed on and the incident was almost forgotten until brought to mind by another murder and what grew out of it.

About four years ago Mrs. Lacy and Hargis, 34 years of age, who lived in the neighborhood of Moore and Lyons, quarreled with Mrs. John Lyons, and when angered said she could light her pipe and before it burned out could go to the place where were the ashes of Henry Hargis. A few nights afterward she was shot in the back as she sat at her bedside by an assassin, who fired through the window.

A few weeks ago Mrs. Lyons, her friend, Mrs. Harvey Samples, and her brother, a boy named Fred Moore, were arrested for the murder of Mrs. Hargis. In getting up the evidence against them the threat, made by Mr. Hargis, was recalled and that brought up the whole Hargis story again.

A young detective went to work on the case and soon found out that Caroline Moore, a sister of James Moore, had also been talking. What she said recalled that a little girl, living at Moore's house at the time Hargis disappeared, had told a story about Moore and Lyons bringing something to the house in a sheet and putting it under the floor.

Remains Were Buried.

The child is now a grown woman. No attention was paid to what she said. When the detective learned of it, however, he thought enough of it to search under the Moore house. There he found what appeared to have been a grave, and in it he discovered bits of bones that seemed to have been buried, tuffs of hair, collar and cuff buttons, the latter bearing the initials of Hargis, and a small pocket whetstone with the missing man's name.

The case came before the grand jury and among other witnesses was Caroline Moore. She broke down and told all she knew. She said she had been wrapped up in a sheet by her brother and Lyons so soon could not see, and that they had then left the house. Presently they returned, but in the meantime she had gnawed a hole in the sheet so she could see, and she saw them in the body of a man wrapped in a sheet. They buried it under the house.

What she knew about the body, afterward exhumed and buried, does not clearly appear, but she averred that was the course pursued, and the grave found by the detective indicated that a body had been taken out and the ashes and charcoal used afterward placed back in it. The hole was far too large to have been made merely to receive the ashes.

Aaron Runion, a brother-in-law of Moore, said he had overheard Moore and Lyons saying that Caroline Moore knew too much about something, and if she was summoned before the inquest into the death of Mrs. Hargis they would put her out of the way. There was other corroborative testimony and the jury returned the indictment as above stated.

The same jury heard the evidence against Mrs. Lyons, Mrs. Samples and young Fred Moore, but failed to return a true bill. It is the theory of the prosecution that Mrs. Hargis was killed at the instigation of Lyons and Moore.

The $300 Hargis had when he disappeared was given him by his mother, who received $500 pension money. It was usually learned that she had procured it by fraud, and pressed with it she confessed and led in an office where she had built a nest. This was recovered for the government, and Mrs. Hargis was sentenced to a year's term in prison, which she served.

The Hargises were from Kentucky, and related to the Breathitt county family of that name. This sensation coming along with that of Mrs. Lege's having been convicted and sentenced to death for the murder of her husband has worked the usually quiet county of Clay up to a fever heat of excitement.

HAGGARD SAILS FOR ENGLAND

Author Praises America, but Says Something Is Wrong in Social Phases.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 20.—H. Rider Haggard, the novelist, who came to this country several weeks ago to study the social and economic conditions of America, sailed for home today on the Majestic. The novelist, beamed with delight as he spoke of his visit to this country and said that his respect for America is a great country. "America is a great country," he said, "and has a great future before it. There is something out of order, however, in the economic conditions, and your social phases. This is shown when you see so many idle men, who are ready to work, in an effort to earn their livelihood."

In this great country there should be willing to work about and no man should be out of employment.

Canada, your next door neighbor, also offers great inducement to those seeking a home and livelihood. It is an open question with me as to whether the small amount of money as to whether the United States or the Dominion of Canada offers the best opportunities.

Father of Four Ends His Life.

No motive has been assigned for the act of Anton Schuler, aged 35, a clerk employed in the factory of the St. Louis Paper Box Co., who committed suicide at 11 o'clock Wednesday night by swallowing a dose of carbolic acid. Schuler was found in the back yard of his home at 203 South Eighteenth street by Carl Pfeil, who resides in the same house. He died before the arrival of a physician. Schuler is survived by a widow and four children.

STATUES OF BURNS IMPORTED

Stone Images for Which Scottish Poet Sat Will Be Mounted in New York.

NEW YORK, April 20.—Two stone statues of Robert Burns, for which he is said to have sat, have been imported recently by Sir Thomas Dewar, M. P., who will erect them on pedestals outside the office of his firm at Thirty-fourth street and Fifth avenue.

The statues are of rough stone. One is now in the basement of the Dewar office. The other is held by the customs authorities until Uncle Sam can appraise its value.

The first figure of the poet is in native costume with a dog between his knees. The second depicts him in penative attitude with his head upon his hands. Both are almost four and a half feet high.

For many years they occupied pedestals in Cranmore Gardens, a resort of London. The Burns statues fell into the hands of dealers of curios. Sir Thomas Dewar discovered them last fall in a store in King's road, Chelsea.

WOMAN POSTS A BAG INSTEAD OF LETTER

From Nondescript Contents Mail Clerk Draws Mental Picture of the Owner.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, April 20.—At the general postoffice here packages are shoved through a window onto a chute which lands this class of mail in the basement. Many are the things that have gone down that chute but the climax was reached yesterday. It was a Boston handbag that tumbled into the asserter's bin, and very evidently the property of a woman, for there is what the blushing clerk found:

A corset, a package of face powder, a sponge, a handkerchief, a stenographer's eraser, a pair of stockings, a bit of carmine in a paper package, 4 cents in change and a note addressed to "My Dearest Little Bird" that closed with "Ten thousand kisses," and which was signed "Charley."

A clerk built up a girl in his mind from the exhibit. He figured that a corset marked 24 inches will fit a rather slender girl. From the size of filmy drop-stitch stockings this clerk deduced the idea that the girl was 5 feet 3 inches. Then he dreamed that all this showed she weighed 135 pounds. Next he thought, as there was a typewriter eraser in the bag, the owner was a stenographer, and as the bag was rather well worn he figured that its owner came downtown early and went home late, which made him think that the girl was working in a stenographer for a commercial concern that likes long hours.

The latter is deduced from the fact that the girl must have been late to work so she dropped her bag instead of a letter in her hurry.

While in the past women have been known to mail false teeth by mistake, as well as bank books and many other queer things, this is the first time that the New York postoffice has run up against a combination of rubber, face powder, beautiful, corsets and 10,000 kisses all in a bunch.

GIRL REJECTED SUICIDE IDEA

Stomach Pump Revealed That "Bluffing" Lover Took Ipecac Instead of Strychnine.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
LOUISVILLE, April 20.—Peter Mueller took a dose of ipecac because his sweetheart, Maude Jennings, was suddenly rebelling against him and when he found him apparently in the throes of death he said he had taken strychnine. They hurriedly called a doctor and when the doctor's finger was placed on her throat, he believed he was "faking."

The doctor took the girl's idea as their cue and after a stomach pump had done its work found that he had only been "bluffing." He is still very sick.

THROW CROOKS AND CRACKS INTO SEA

That Is Naples Newspaper's Plan to Purify Italian Emigration to America.

NAPLES, April 20.—The bad reputation our emigrants have in America is not wholly due to their ignorance and dirty habits," says the Mattina, a leading newspaper of this city, in commenting on a recent interview in which President Roosevelt told an Italian correspondent that he thought Congress would further restrict Italian immigration.

"The feeling of Americans against Italian emigrants would soon disappear if the Italian government would establish schools in those villages from which the emigrants go, to teach them English and to make them at least half civilized and capable of communicating with those who are to give them work and a living."

"Italy sends to America a phalanx of criminals. As long as our legislation is so numerous on our coast and prevents their emigrating, our country will continue to be in the eyes of the world a center of criminal infection."

"It is not enough to civilize the honest emigrants before they sail, but it is also necessary to throw into the ocean all fugitives from justice and prospective delinquents rather than let them land."

"The whole question is reduced to this: Either Italy must purify its emigration before the would-be emigrants are allowed to embark, or the Americans will purify it on arrival. We shall then divide with the Chinese the honor of landing on American soil under special laws, which may become a continuous danger to our emigration in the hands of interested parties."

VARIEGATED CARNATION THIS.

New Flower Discovered to Change Its Color Daily.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—Luther Burbank has produced a carnation which changes its color three times the first three days after it comes into bloom. The first day the carnation is pure white, the second day it is pink and the third day it changes to a deep red, which is retained until it fades.

IN SOCIETY

Sons of Revolution Banquet.

The annual banquet of the Missouri Society of the Sons of the American Revolution was held Wednesday night at the Hotel Jefferson in commemoration of the battles of Concord and Lexington.

President Ashley Cabell gave an address of welcome. Others who participated were C. F. Walbridge, Gen. George H. Shields, Dr. H. Hughes, Rev. Dr. R. J. Nicolai, George H. Shields, W. S. Hadaway, L. S. Carter, Ashley Cabell, E. L. Johnson, Joseph D. Jackson, E. Blyden, N. M. Bell, H. Clark, S. M. K. Green, W. M. Field, W. B. Homer, I. M. Mason, M. H. Seaman, W. H. Sennard, M. H. Moore, John Schrevers, George S. Johns, James A. Graham, John F. Wagner, A. B. Cole.

Hampe Double Celebration.

A pleasant double celebration was given at the residence of Henry Hampe in honor of his fortieth birthday, and the confirmation of his daughter, Miss Florence Hampe. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers, and one of the most enjoyable features of the evening was the music.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hampe, Henry Alfred, Louis Alfred, E. E. Cramer, Otto Rasmussen, Minnie Eversmann, Cecilia Hietter, Louis Evers, Misses Clara Eversmann, Lillie Leary, Minnie Perry, Emma Gulach, Messrs. Otto Eversmann, John Bishoff, Otto Hampe, Jr., Charles Krelsd.

Entertains Brown Wedding Party.

Mr. Paul Brown's dinner party to the members of her son, Paul Brown's, wedding party which she gave at the St. Louis Women's Club Wednesday evening, was one of the most enjoyable affairs given for a popular young bride and bridegroom.

The circular table was decorated with favors and watercolor sketches of brides and grooms as place cards. Miniature gondolas with sons and daughters of Italy dressed in gay gowns served as centerpieces. The center of the table had a low mound of pink roses, sweet peas and ferns. A cornucopia of bouquets for the guests were at each corner. Mrs. Brown presided in receiving her guests by the bride-elect, Miss Katherine Bonties. At the conclusion of the dinner party the guests were taken to the Olympic Theater.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hampe, Walter Boogher, Fred Bronough, Charles H. Block, Bettie Tucker of Kansas City, Mo., S. H. Wright, Messrs. Henry Higon, Annie Larkie Wright, Messrs. Sam Erskine, Jack Grey, David Chalmers, R. J. Tolson, Murray Carleton, Jr.

Tailor-made gowns for $50. Silberstein's Ladies' Tailoring Co., 1507 Olive street.

Miss Estelle Kuperle was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by Miss Ada Lang at the Buckingham Club Tuesday afternoon. Miss Kuperle will be one of the brides of next week, her wedding to George Willard Pfister of Centralia, Ill., being one of the large and fashionable weddings of the week.

Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Edward Goltra, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Maffitt, their daughter, Miss Julia Maffitt, and Mrs. and Mrs. D. Dana, departed in their private car for a fortnight tour of Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Salveter, who have been making their home at the Jefferson Hotel, will depart for the East this week. They will make their future home in New York. En route east they will visit in Chicago and at French Lick Springs, Ind.

Miss Florence Newby, who will be married to J. H. Anderson Easter week, was entertained by Mrs. A. J. Rogers at her home, 527 Morgan street, Wednesday afternoon, with a card party. The guests were limited to the intimate friends of the bride-elect.

Silk Shirtwaist suits and linen for $50. Silberstein's, 1507 Olive.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Randall Hoyt of west end, fine boulevard departed early in the week for Chicago, where they will spend 10 days or a fortnight. Miss Marie Griffith, of the Missouri Athletic Club, is a party of friends for Europe early in June, for a three months' tour.

The St. Louis Advertising Men's League will have a "vaudeville night" Thursday evening at the Alhambra. After dinner at 8 o'clock there will be talks by E. M. Grossman of the Jefferson Hotel and Mr. Marton Reed. Let the ad men and their guests will occupy boxes at the Alhambra Theater. There will be extras on the bill in honor of the ad men.

Mrs. Mary Lee Stich of New York has on display at Hotel Beers, room 250, the imported L'irresistible front-lace corset, demonstrating daily on living models. Mrs. Stich will personally superintend each fitting.

FIGHT FOR BRIDE FOLLOWS WEDDING

Strategy Wins Wife Fromirate Parents After Show of Force Failed.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
LOCKPORT, N. Y., April 19.—Fred Allen Town of Tonawanda, aged 23, came to this city Friday and induced his sweetheart, Anna M. Bursee, aged 18, to marry him against her parents' wishes. They then went to the bride's home and asked forgiveness.

Mrs. John R. Bursee, the bride's mother, drove her new son-in-law from the house and pursued him a block, throwing stones at the disconcerted bridegroom. The bride was locked in her room and kept prisoner until Sunday, when rescued by her young husband.

The latter went to the Bursee home, accompanied by his father, and demanded his captive wife. Mrs. Bursee had planned for his reception, and with the aid of two boarders, she forced the father and son into the street and pursued them with stones. The bride's father was badly beaten by one of the boarders, Charles Conners, who had been a rival of the son for Anna Bursee's hand.

The young man executed a strategic move, returned to the Bursee home in the absence of the father and carried his bride away. Fugate Bursee is an invalid and could not prevent him. A reconciliation all around was effected in police court today.

Rev. G. W. Gallagher, who performed the marriage ceremony, went to the bride's home Saturday to induce Bursee to accept the husband of his daughter. He was given a "warm" reception, the bride's father wielding a cane knife in one hand and a flat iron in the other. The minister fled.

NEW COCKTAIL RECORD MADE

Yale Student Drinks Dozen in Twenty-Four Minutes, but Loses Bet.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 19.—A new record was established in this city last night which, while not officially recognized by the university authorities, will undoubtedly stand for some time in real live sporting circles of the local institution. The name of the record holder is kept secret by those who witnessed the exhibition.

The facts concerning the feat, which consisted of pouring down one dozen Manhattan cocktails in 24 minutes, caused such a sensation that it soon became the talk of the university.

A select party of Yale men were discussing the possibilities of consuming quantities of liquor, when one of the party suggested that he would undertake to do it. He would guarantee to drink 15 cocktails in half an hour, or at a rate of one every two minutes in 34 minutes, or at a rate of one every two minutes in 34 minutes, or at a rate of one every two minutes in 34 minutes.

The 15 cocktails were placed in a row and the drinking begun. When 12 of them had been consumed on schedule the wine was no apparent but the drinker suddenly collapsed and had to be carried to his room. He was out bright and early next morning, took a brace, but was unable to account for his failure of the night before.

Biggest West of the Mississippi.

Even the most voracious hunters don't want newspaper men present.

When strangers in St. Louis drink with strangers, strange things may easily happen them.

The people of Logansport, Ind., have become so absorbed in Roosevelt that they haven't paid for their statue of McKinley.

THE WAY OF FOLLY.

Although various elements of citizens may differ widely in opinion as to the wisdom or rightfulness of the laws regulating the observance of Sunday as a day of rest, there can be but one opinion among law-abiding citizens as to the duty of public officers to follow the dictates of reason and conscience in enforcing the laws, or as to the duty of citizens to obey the laws and respect authority.

The application of Gov. Folk's theory—an incontestable theory—that all laws should be enforced until they are repealed, revives outworn laws and regulations not in harmony with public sentiment and not adapted to new conditions. But obnoxious laws cannot be removed and their enforcement prevented by lawlessness and retaliation. The spirit of resentment and revenge is not the spirit in which a community or any element of it can successfully combat the enforcement of illiberal and annoying laws or legal regulations. Boycotts and retaliatory measures are un-American and unwise. They defeat the objects which they are intended to attain. The state is greater and stronger than any element of citizens and its authority must prevail. It is only by reason, legitimate agitation and legal methods that unwise laws or laws obnoxious to the majority can be repealed, or that obsolete laws can be harmonized with the sound sentiment of the people.

If there is intolerance in the laws it cannot be removed by intolerance and bitterness in those who oppose them. The wise plan is to find out what the people of the state and the people of the communities in the state want, what is right and practicable, and strive to obtain it by orderly, legal methods.

The Daughters of the American Revolution have fighting blood of their own without inheriting any.

FINE SPORT.

Hooliganism is no restricted to London. In New York the other day an automobile party—two women and a man—drove their machine up to the heels of a horse ridden by a lady. They roared and screamed; naturally the horse was frightened and ran away. But the lady was a good horsewoman and soon got the animal under control. Then the fool finds in the machine came up again and the joke was repeated. This went on three or four times, until the woman became exhausted and was tossed over the horse's head, falling prone on her back. Then the automobile hastened away. The degradation of the human spirit indicated by such performances would be unbelievable if they were not reported frequently in London and often witnessed in this country. It seems to be a new species of degeneracy, a compound of sophisticated vulgarity and primitive brutality. What is the cause of it?

Any new Pension Commissioner may be bold and strenuous at first. Commissioner Warner's decision to dismiss 10 members of the Board of Review because they granted pensions to the members of a Pennsylvania regiment never mustered into service may be the clean sweep of a new broom.

GOING TO LICK THEM INTO SHAPE.

The younger son of an English peer offers his and his wife's services to freshly made millionaires and their families.

His announcement, as called to the Sunday Post-Dispatch, is interesting. He is prepared to teach millionaires how to dress, how to behave, how to amuse themselves, how to eat. He will show them the difference between good and bad taste, how their carriages ought to be turned out, etc., etc.

A school of this kind ought to succeed. Several years ago an Ohio man made several millions by selling a railroad he did not own to a New Yorker who didn't want it for considerably more than it was worth in the market. It was a fine business transaction and immediately he became known as a financier. He took his family to New York and employed a lady to do what this Englishman proposes to do. Under her tuition they were licked into shape and today they are in the smart set and in the newspapers, recognized as one of the old Lehigh families.

The Englishman shows his good sense to copy the American lady's experiment. All his pupils won't be so successful as hers, but most of them will soon be able to lay in a long line of ancestral portraits and buy a castle or mansion where the family has lived since the Conquest.

The Beef Trust has raised the wholesale price of beef another half cent and another Beef Trust witness has dropped from sight of the federal officials. It seems to be the policy of the Beef Trust to grant consumers the privilege of paying the expenses of its fugitives from justice.

THE STANDARD OF WORTH.

The principle of Utopia was thus defined by Andrew Carnegie at Northampton, Mass.:

"Here is the true, the final aristocracy, which never can be displaced—not what he does for himself, but what he does for others will be the standard by which man is judged; wherein he has sacrificed himself; wherein he has benefited others."

We say of a rich man that he is worth $1,000,000. But that measures the worth of his wealth. The real question is: What is he worth?

According to this standard, aptness for public service measures

a man's worth; or, as Mr. Carnegie puts it, "not what he does for himself, but what he does for others."

Such a standard is not employed now, and there are no signs that it will be in the near future. But every man and woman who has ever given thought to the subject knows that it is the only standard possible in conditions really human.

The action of the Board of Directors of the Merchants' Exchange in authorizing President Teichman to appoint a committee to urge the passage of the free bridge bill before the Illinois Legislature adds a strong factor to the forces fighting for the opportunity to break the bridge monopoly and abolish the arbitrary. The Merchants' Exchange committee will join with the Manufacturers' Association, the Travelers' Protective Association and the Citizens' Free Bridge Association in pushing the bill. The hearing has been postponed until next week, but good work can be done at once in demonstrating to the legislators the need of a free bridge and its value to Missouri and Illinois.

MR. BEALL AND THE BABIES.

It was a great day for the babies of Alton, Ill., when Edmond Beall was elected Mayor. Likewise it was a great day for Edmond Beall, and for Alton, as well.

Beall is the babies' benefactor, and the babies boosted Beall in return for his kindness in welcoming them to Alton when other men who owned houses were inclined to frown upon them. Mr. Beall threw open the doors of his eight new flats, saying, "Bless you, children!" and inviting married couples to come and abide therein, at a rental so small that it made other property owners sit up and look exclamation points. These flats were nicknamed "The Stork's Nest."

Finally there came a time when a committee of 21 citizens called on Mr. Beall to run for Mayor. He accepted the invitation. A hard fight was made on him by three other candidates, but he vanquished them all. How could he lose when every baby in Alton was goo-gooing and da-da-ing for him with all his might?

Mr. Roosevelt will do well to keep an eye on Mayor Beall between now and 1908.

Victor Morowetz, chairman of the executive committee of the Santa Fe Railroad, when asked by Senator Elkins if illegal discrimination and rebates would cease if traffic managers were compelled to make sworn reports, said: "I don't think so. The traffic managers would perjure themselves, and those who would not do that would not keep office." What kind of company has Mr. Morowetz been keeping that he thinks perjurers are so plenty?

The simple life is moving leisurely in New York's Fifth avenue. A private house for which plans have just been filed will have an automobile garage on the first floor, a squash court on the sixth and a roof garden to complete the ensemble.

The only large business organization not represented in the free bridge movement is the Business Men's League. Does not the league want the bridge arbitrary abolished and St. Louis commerce unshackled?

If a politician of Vice-President Fairbanks' fire and enthusiasm were to go hunting he would have to travel on an ice breaker after polar bears.

"We have $10,000,000 down in our jeans."—World's Fair officials to Architect Cass Gilbert.

No matter what you do or say,
Or what you think or what desire,
The world will bow to your alway,
And fawning knees will never tire,
And you can fasten iron collars
Around men's necks, whatever the means,
If you have sixteen million dollars
Down in your jeans.

You can buy up a legislature

GERMANY FEARS NO AMERICAN PERIL.

Americans Too Complacent and Self-Satisfied to Command World-Primacy in Industry—Our Lack of Technical Education—The Careful German Training.

(From a Report by United States Consul-General Mason, Berlin.)

The throng of German engineers, mechanics, scientists, educators, merchants and manufacturers who went to America during the past summer, not only to see the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, but to travel over the United States and examine with expert intelligence the details of American railway management and our agricultural and industrial methods, are now returning and relating to their neighbors and colleagues what they have seen.

One can hardly take up a German newspaper without finding a more or less extended report of what some one of these clever observers had found and learned in the United States, and has related to his vermin or local chamber of commerce, with his comments and conclusions as to what it means to Germany.

The general tone of these reports is distinctly reassuring to the hearers before whom they have been delivered. While admitting freely the boundless resources of our country, the energy, industry and unsurpassed mechanical skill of the people,
the superiority of our factory system, the speed and cheapness of rail transportation, and the resilient, progressive spirit which is always looking for a new and better machine or method than the one already in use, the German experts find, or think they have found, defects in many parts of the American system which, unless reformed, will continue to weaken our country's grasp upon international trade and promote the interests of competing nations.

There is, say these critics, a pervasive ignorance and indifference about everything outside the United States that, from the German standpoint, will be, unless corrected, a serious handicap in our quest for foreign trade. The careless confidence with which agents and salesmen are sent abroad, with no special preparation and with no knowledge of any language but their own, to do business in countries where only a trifling percentage of the population understands English, strikes
these careful, methodical European experts
as amazing.

The meagreness of technical education,
the trifling annual contingent of chemists, engineers, educated dyers, weavers and electricians, as compared with the throng of lawyers, physicians, dentists and un-specialized graduates, turned out by our colleges and universities, seems to them shortsighted and improvident.

But most surprising of all appeared to the German visitors the absence of any adequate system of special education for commerce, banking and foreign trade.

They consider our so-called commercial colleges, where young men with a district or grammar school education are rushed through a three months' course of bookkeeping and commercial usages, as little better than a farce.

One of the visitors, a Stadtrath and professor of commercial ethics, talked with some of the students of such an institution in one of the eastern cities, and was surprised at their limited and superficial knowledge, their ignorance of languages and nearly everything else outside the United States, and their cheerful confidence that their 18 weeks at the "college" would equip them for success anywhere.

They note also the enormous disparity between American and European wages,
the high rates charged by express companies and the general heavy cost of handling business in the United States, and conclude that on the whole the "American danger" has been greatly exaggerated.

A LAST LOOK AROUND.

In the marriage ceremony in that country,
A Frenchman must now "protect, aid and able," according to French novelists, that the men obey them anyway.

follow the Rockefeller method of disposing of his surplus. The millionaire catches it gent. That's not the question. Do women want to be intelligent?

They can do that any time. Just say

NEW YORK NEWSPAPER VIEWS.

This Morning's Comment on To-

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 20.—The World says: "Andrew Carnegie is admirably blunt in saying that he would rather have his niece marry 'A sober, moral, well-doing man' who had been a coachman than 'a worthless duke.' It was a poet of his native country who said 'A man's a man for that.' After all, love laughs at 'the philosophers as well as the scientists.'"

"It is worth noting that within a fortnight of the success of the ownership candidate at the polls in Chicago, New York banking houses has volunteered to furnish all the funds necessary for taking over the street railways in that city to public ownership and for refitting and extending them," says the American.

"In a very few years the street railways of Chicago will be the city's most profitable asset; and this, too, despite the fact that fares can and will be reduced.
New York citizens who have given away
the surface of their streets, the air above and the depths below to private corporations operated for profit might well study
the doings of the next six months in Chicago."

The Columbia (S. C.) State protested against American investors buying up foreign loans when there were so many opportunities for money-making at home, especially in the south. This leads the Times today to agree with the protest and say:
"The progress that has been made in the past 40 years is but proof of the far greater progress that can be and will be made. If we try to measure the actual contrast between the South of 1865 and the South of today we understand roughly, at least,
what the future holds in store."

"It is one of the wonders of commercial history, and the material resources combined with the moral forces of the people which have been so simply demonstrated give solid security for an advancement still more remarkable."

"It was given as one of the reasons why
the American Board must accept the Rockefeller gift that before the protest was made most of the money had been spent,"
says the Press. "This recalls the dialogue of the barkeeper with the owner of the bar
who was in the adjoining room: 'Is Hogan good for a drink?' 'Has he had it?'
'He has.' 'He is.'"

Stray Dogs a Nuisance.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Tuesday's Post-Dispatch contained a letter on the subject of "Stray Dogs." I wish to add a few words. What is the reason that so many dogs are allowed to roam the streets? Let the authorities enforce the law. If necessary, aid rid our streets of the stray curs. They are not only dangerous, but a nuisance. They neighborhood a new concrete sidewalk running on it, which caused the cross street to close at the same time by the same dogs, but he could do nothing.

Give us more dog catchers and clear the city of this pest.

What Are "Necessities?"

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The harsher against saloons. Reasons to keep their places closed on Sundays has developed some amusing incidents. One in particular was that order for the closing of week that all places selling goods on Sunday for public necessities would not be molested. Sunday, about the same order order was given out that all grocery stores connected with saloons must close immediately. Being Sunday, the order was I had to close at the very hour when a rush was on and families were providing for the Sunday dinner. Later on I was astonished to see that the second-hand dealers on our street were wide open, displaying their goods in show-windows that were set out on the sidewalk, filled with guns, pistols, cartridges, stillies, dirk knives and brass knuckles—a public necessity, I suppose.

A Rest From Stimulants.

ing that men who drank stimulants daily

Sunday Closing.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

This Sunday closing law is all right, but why make a distinction? If Gov. Folk want the law enforced the way the statute reads
then treat everyone alike. Shut down everything tight. Why do any lawless Trans-sit company tear up tracks on Jefferson avenue on a Sunday, disturbing church services? They can do that any time. Just say

A FOUR LEAF CLOVER

BY IVAN WHIN

The Romance of a St. Louis Base-ball Star.

"Keep out of this," said the umpire, "I can take care of myself."

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS.
Ed Slade wins local fame as a pitcher in Fairview, Neb. He is big, strong, and has a trick which is called "the bang ball." This is very unusual to batters. The Fairview boys form a club, which plays in neighboring towns. They are so uniformly successful that O'Leary of the Dallas club hears of them and their pitcher. He signs Slade at $500 a year for two years. Grace Lindsey, who has been the object of Slade's mute admiration for several years, tells him not to leave Fairview until he visits her as she has something to give him. He fails to call, but sees her after she has pitched the world game in Fairview and saves her from a runaway horse. She gives him a four leaf clover and when after a season with Dallas he goes to the St. Louis club with O'Leary, who is to manage the club, she writes that she will marry him if he "makes good" and sends him a four leaf clover picked from a Fairview field.

CHAPTER IV.

In Fast Company.

"We must win. Hook or crook, we've got to have this game," O'Leary told his players. "Kid," he called Slade. "I'm relying on you to hang them up. What's that you're wearing—a four-leaf shamrock. See here, boys." He showed the other men the clover and a yell went up from the group that clustered about the manager and pitcher.

"Good for you, Kid," they shouted. "That'll do the business if anything will." The superstition of sailors is proverbial, but it does not surpass the superstition of ballplayers. There was Harper's blue sleeves—do you remember? He wore a blue undershirt when he pitched in several winning games and laundry inefficiency compelled him to wear a white one on a subsequent occasion when he failed. Thereafter the club and rooters had no faith in him if they could not see the blue sleeves. And Burkett's familiar trick of spitting on the end of the bat. And Shannon's familiar trick with two bats which he swings and twists and just at the moment he goes to the plate one slips from his hold, leaving a "lucky" stick in his hands. And Wagner's practice of circling the first baseman when he goes on all sides. The players came in from the field, only Abbott remaining out. In the midst of the excitement he circled the bases and Hankins called "Abbott scores" to the reporters in the stand. "Play ball," he commanded. "Soak him," yelled a spectator, and, being near the umpire, he undertook to follow the ball's own advice. A terrific blow on his jaw from Slade's fist sent him into the arms of friends. "Keep out of this," said the umpire; "I can take care of myself." But Slade, coolly hitting right and left about Hankins' head, kept the angry crowd away until the police arrived.

A dozen fights started in different portions of the field, for angry partisans would argue the play as they saw it and the police had full hands.

Hankins and escorted him to the shelter of the clubhouse, whence a closed carriage took him swiftly into the city.

As the Clevelanders left the park a shower of stones fell about them, but no one was injured.

"A nice gang of corner-lot players we are," said O'Leary as he reviewed the end of the game. "Whoever censured he felt was due individuals for the conclusion he kept to himself. 'If I'd only kept my head Abbott might have gone out on bases and it would have been nothing but a tie in the ninth with chances in our favor, but I had to go up in an airship like a beginner.'

That evening he called Slade aside and said: "That's for winning the President Salsberger for $50. 'That's for winning the game,' he said, 'and if you keep up the kick crowd and play like this, there'll be bundles of these things for you.'

"But I lost," said Slade in amazement. "You won it if ever we a game of ball. I lost and the less said about it the better."

"Let me pitch tomorrow," Slade begged eagerly.

O'Leary eyed him coldly. "You keep your shirt on, young man. I'm running this club," and left the Nebraska puzzled and chilled gazing on the check which he knew meant that he had "made good."

To Be Continued in the Post-Dispatch Friday.

WHEN MAN GOES SHOPPING.

When man goes a-shopping there is a terrible waste of money. Even when his wife goes with him there is a waste of money, and words and temper's too.

For the man thinks his wife should buy at every counter where she stops to "look" at things; this not being according to the rules of the game, as every woman knows.

So while she "looks," the man stands in great embarrassment, and as they walk he tells her in fierce, low tones what he thinks of her way of doing.

Some men even go further than this, so acute and sensitive is their spirit; they go to work and buy something at the counter because the wife has put the ball woman to some trouble, which makes said wife mad as a hornet, and as they walk away she tells him what she thinks of his actions, but afterward brings back the thing and exchanges it, so coming out ahead of the game after all.

When man shops it is to buy something he wants. Having found it, he pays the price without flinching and so goes forth rejoicing.

Reaching home and exhibiting the same to his wife, he thinks, and sometimes says: "Well, my husband and his money are 'won parted.'"

This, however, worries not the man at all. He wanted something, found it and bought it; but if his wife should execute the same maneuver there would be war in the family.

Which is no fiction.

St. Louis has more Post-Dispatch readers every day than it has homes.

MAN'S VIEWS ON WOMEN'S CLOTHES

By Nicola Greeley-Smith, Granddaughter of Horace Greeley.

Written for the Post-Dispatch.

When a man wants to show just how idiotic he can be he proceeds to tell a woman how to dress. It is the reef upon which the wisest philosopher and most foolish fool alike go to pieces.

The other day I began to read the latest masculine dictum on the subject of women's clothes, published by a New York news paper. It contained some very sensible generalities, but finally it got down to hats. Women should wear, it said, wide straight brimmed hats with a small bunch of flowers on the left side and ribbon streamers hanging down the back for decoration.

Maybe it doesn't sound as awful as it would look, but there is not a self-respecting citizen of St. Louis who would be seen with the wearer of such a "creation," even on an outing to Alton.

All men know, and all that they should pretend to know about women's clothes is whether or not they are becoming.

The moment they pretend to give advice they are lost. Many men who would turn around on Broadway to look after a 30-pound vagrant girl with an 18-inch waist only reflect sadly on man's utter ignorance of woman's clothes.

And yet if these men were to rise some morning on a world of corsetless women there would not be monasteries enough to hold the disgruntled sons of Adam.

Women dress to please men, all aphorisms to the contrary notwithstanding, and the only sure way to please them is by not taking their advice. It would be a good thing if every man could see his wife dressed just once according to the remarkable ideas on feminine costume which he had previously evolved for her benefit. It would be safe to say in that case that he would never, never do so any more.

The other day in a fashionable millinery shop I saw a man who loudly proclaimed himself from Mississippi, buying a hat to take home to his wife? A heartless saleswoman with an eye to the firm's interests was showing him the rarest collection of moth-eaten, unsalable antiques I ever saw.

Parts of it were published some years ago in an English magazine, but the work has been revised, and to a great extent rewritten, and now appears in the form in which the author wishes it to stand. For this edition he has written a new preface. The story bears upon the marriage relation, that being "the irrational knot" in question, and contains many pages of witty dialogue; some views of life which are extremely Shawese, as well as excellent character drawing. The work is now in press, and will be ready very shortly.

Thoughts of Peace.

Now that it's Lent, my Christian friends, when violence should cease. Draw up your chairs and we will talk on Universal peace.

We'll first suppose that Togo has been silenced by the Powers. That Rojstvensky's guns are stuffed with freshly gathered flowers.

We'll next suppose that Erianger, worn thin by law's tobacco. Had sent a pretty loving cup to David of Belasco.

That Wall Street ceased to rumble with the wrath-provoking dam. That Messrs. Bull & Ursus had lain down with Mr. Lamb.

That Lawson, clad in lavender, had waited upon the scene. And sat consuming ginger pop with Col. Copper Greens.

That the Equitable Life the doors were opened wide. And angel choir from within sang, "Gloria be to Hyde!"

That Rockefeller, blamed no more for Standard Oil bonanza. Sat smiling in Topeka as the governor of Kansas.

That Dr. Booker Washington was going out to tea. Invited by the governor of sunny Tennessee.

That Castro, having paid his bill with all the interest due. Sat 'neath a palm tree carolling "The Red, the White, and Blue!"

That Maxim Gorky and the Czar were driving out together. (Dear me—one has peculiar dreams this languid April weather!)

REACHING THE SPOT.

It Can Be Done, So Scores of St. Louis Citizens Say.

To cure an aching back. The pains of rheumatism. The tired-out feelings. You must reach the spot—get at the cause.

In most cases 'tis the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys. Mrs. Henry Koglin of No. 1930 Warren street, Eighteenth ward, says, "My son had rheumatism and for eleven weeks was unable to work, most of the time being confined to his bed. It attacked his knees and ankles. In addition to this he continually complained of a pain in the small of his back and sometimes all over the body. Reading on more than one occasion about Doan's Kidney Pills being a remarkable remedy to use in cases of kidney troubles induced me to go to Wolff-Wilson's for a box. He improved under the treatment, and a continuation so greatly benefited him that he returned to work. At the present time he is in good health."

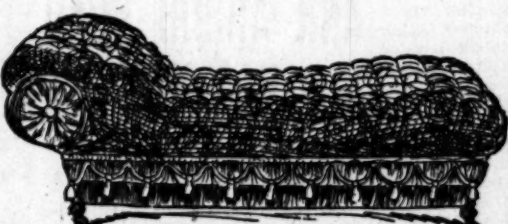

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

RAILWAY CONGRESS TO BEAT RECORDS

Fifty Buildings Now Being Erected for World's Exhibition at Washington in May.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, April 15.—Fifty buildings, temporary in character, large and small, are now under process of erection on the Mall near the monument, within which will be housed the exhibits to be made at the International Railway Congress, which will be held in this city from May 3 to May 14. The exhibit will extend over the entire field of railway appliances and will be contributed to by manufacturers and inventors the world over.

This congress will be opened by Vice-President Fairbanks, in the absence of the President, and the subsequent sessions will be presided over by President Stuyvesant Fish of the Illinois Central. It will include as delegates about 500 railway officials and 700 foreign officials. Forty countries will send personal representatives. Together they represent about 150,000 miles of road. The work of this congress will be divided into five sections, on ways and works, locomotives and rolling stock, working, general and light railways.

The most prominent railway men of the United States will attend the congress, and 80 of them will come to Washington in private cars. The exhibit in connection with the congress will be the most comprehensive ever gathered. In London, 30 years ago, only 400 square feet of space was used. Five years ago the exhibit was held in conjunction with the Paris exhibition. In Washington this year there will be over 2,000 square feet, exclusive of the aisles and passageways.

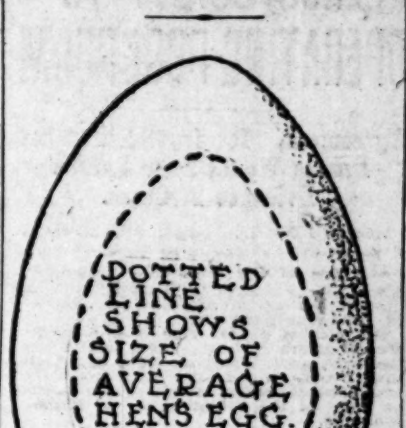

At the conclusion of the congress the delegates from abroad will tour the country east of the Mississippi valley, inspecting industries, terminals and other objects of interest.

EMPLOYMENT AGENT FINED.
F. A. Kaine Contended License Unnecessary as He Had No Office.
Frederick A. Kaine of Cape Girardeau, Mo., was fined $100 by Judge Tracy in the City Hall Police Court Thursday morning for conducting an employment bureau with a license. Representatives of eleven local employment bureaus appeared as witnesses against him. On complaint of Thomas J. King, who conducts an employment bureau at 377 Market street, Kaine was arrested April 12 by Policeman Schmoleski at Union Station just as the train on which he was taking 25 men to Cape Girardeau to work for the Frisco Railroad was pulling out. Kaine said in his defense that the law requiring the payment of a license applied only to those who conducted an employment bureau with an established place of business in St. Louis, and that he had merely come here to employ the 25 men for the Frisco road and return with them to Cape Girardeau.

BIGGEST EGG IS FATAL TO HEN

Union Market dealers are much interested in a remarkable egg laid by a Gold Wyandotte hen belonging to Joseph of 2824 Allen avenue, which they say is the largest and heaviest hen's egg they have ever seen. This was the hen's first laying season, and she died three days after the egg exhibited by Mr. Kurz was laid. Mr. Kurz's hobby is the raising of fancy chickens. This is his first experience, however, with phenomenal eggs.

The egg weighs four ounces, the weight of the average egg being about two ounces.

DANCE IF BEAUTY IS YOUR DESIRE
Physical Culture Experts All Agree That Terpsichorean Art Brings Great Benefits.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, April 20.—"Dance for your chest's sake. Dance for the greater elasticity of your muscles. Dance to keep your spine straighter. Dance to maintain a graceful poise of the head and to prolong the spontaneous activity of good health."

These injunctions to dance discreetly from doll days to dotage were voiced by the wisest minds in the science of physical culture at the annual convention of the American Physical Education Association, which is in session in Teachers' college, Columbia University. It was the consensus of opinion that dancing would accomplish infinitely better results than "straight fronting" or the most approved style of shoulder braces.

Dr. Dudley Allen Sargent, renowned as director of the gymnasium of Harvard University, discussed the subject in his paper on "Physical dancing from a physical and medical standpoint."

Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick, in his presidential address to the members of the convention, insisted upon the importance of dancing to atone for the continuous work which fatigues the brain, and recommended it as a treatment by which genius may be saved from lapsing into mediocrity.

Miss Elizabeth Burchenal, B. L. of Teachers' college, pointed out that graceful ease is not far removed from beauty. She said there was, perhaps, no scientific means of measuring the exact result of dancing, but she had learned much from questioning exponents of dancing. They replied that it helped the posture of the head, added balance, trained the eye and gave better control of the body.

DEWEY TO VOTE ON INCORPORATION
Village Election Called for May 13 and Citizens Volunteer as Judges.

In order that there may be no hitch in the project for the incorporation of Dewey, on the rock road west of Belleville, patriotic men of the village are volunteering to serve as judges and clerks at the proposed special election, without compensation, May 13.

The petition was filed two weeks ago, but on account of the requirement of a deposit there was delay. By reason of the services volunteered, the prospective cost was reduced to $10, and on the depositing of this amount the election was called. The election officers are James Day, Edward W. Wood and Abraham Ralph, judges, and Samuel Gray and Peter Grieve, clerks.

If the villagers, by their votes, decide to incorporate, an election to name temporary officers will be called, and these will serve until the next general annual election.

The proposed limits extend from half a mile west of Belleville, a mile and a half along the rock road, and embrace 800 acres. Once organized as a village, Dewey can be annexed to Belleville, but may become a part of the city by a majority vote of the village.

O. C. Church, one of the leaders in the incorporation movement, denied Thursday that the movement was encouraged by the East St. Louis & Suburban Electric Railway as an offset to the project for the extension of the Belleville city limits to take in Dewey. He said no assistance had been received from the company. The majority of the people of Dewey, he said, preferred to have a town of their own rather than to be annexed to Belleville, even though annexation would give them cheaper carfare.

FLORAL SHIP ON HIS DESK.
After an absence of three months, Mr. James G. Nugent, member of the firm of B. Nugent & Co., Broadway, Locust street and Washington avenue, returned to his desk this morning and was surprised at the reception given him by the employees of the firm who presented him with a floral offering in the form of a ship, the model being made after the one on which he cruised along the Mediterranean sea, in hopes of recovering his health.

Mr. Nugent sailed from New York the latter part of January. His brother, B. Nugent, and family, Miss Julia Lake, on the steamer "MacArthur," he had been along the Mediterranean sea, and through Europe. He returned alone and the rest of the party will not return until the fall.

The floral ship, placed on his desk, is 4 feet long and 2 feet high. The hull is made of terra cotta and is decorated with yellow roses and the rigging of smilax and hyacinths. The smokestacks are made of eggs white Easter lilies and in the hull of the ship was a card with the following words: "The smokestacks are made of eggs white Easter lilies and in the hull of the ship was a card with the following words: 'Mr. Nugent expressed his light. He is spending the remainder of the day going through the large store thanking his employees individually. Mr. Nugent, manager of B. Nugent & Co., said: 'Mr. Nugent is a being well, feeling well and is thinking well.'"

STRANGE BIRD PUZZLES MANY

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 15.—All Cambridge is wondering how to tell a gray eagle from an owl. Fact!
For three hours a huge bird perched on the big ball which tops the spire of the First Baptist Church in Central square; way, "way up in the air, 215 feet high. And Cambridge craned its neck, gazed at the bird and argued vociferously as to its identity.

"It's an eagle," said one wise man.
"It's a gray eagle," said another, getting very wise suddenly after he had been tipped off.
"It's an owl," said a third.

St. Louis has more Post-Dispatch readers every day than it has homes. "First in everything."

CHORUS JEFLEINCHING UNDER VACCINE POINT

200, More or Less, of "Mother Goose" Giggled as Arms Were Scratched.

MANAGEMENT'S REQUEST

Eight Young Doctors From Dispensary Survived Stage Ordeal Well.

Two hundred—more or less—young women with the "Mother Goose" company awoke this morning and began examinations to discover whether their vaccinations had already "took."

Two hundred—more or less—of them awoke and giggled and screamed "don't touch my arm."

The 200—more or less—were vaccinated after Wednesday's matinee by eight young doctors employed by the city and under the direction of Dr. Henry Louis Schreck, a physician at the City Dispensary. The doctors stood on the stage, two at each of four tables, while Dr. Schreck and Manager Rosenbaum of the company, at whose request the vaccination was done, checked off the names of those who were coming up to have their arms scratched.

For all of the vaccinations were on the arms. This was not as the vaccinees would have it; some expressed a preference for having the vaccine applied on other parts of the anatomy.

"But I would not agree to that," said Dr. Schreck. "A chorus lady should never be vaccinated except upon her arm. Some of them told me they had been vaccinated on—well, on their legs; but where they dance and march so much that is dangerous. Too much use of the limb which is vaccinated may lead to blood poisoning; and dancing and high kicking give less strain on the arm than on the legs."

The chorus ladies had just come from Gooseland, in which transpires the last act of the show. They wore the daisy costumes of that strange country—costumes that are gay with gauze and spangles, and much abbreviated as to skirts—and as their names were called they marched up to the vaccine points.

There was much screaming and giggling and many cries of "ouch" as the tiny needles were put to work; but nobody fainted.

The young doctors stood it bravely. So far as the records show, not one of them flinched. Now and then it took longer for one vaccination than it had for another; and a strange coincidence in this connection was that the length of the process was in proportion to the good looks of the patient.

There are some men in the "Mother Goose" company, and these also were vaccinated. They did not require much time, however. "A man is much more virile than a woman," said one of the doctors, discussing this feature. "You see, one is not so much afraid of hurting a man."

The entire process was not a long one. Dr. Schreck says the actual elapsed time was 52 minutes.

VOLUNTEER TO HELP ELECTION

Residents of Dewey Serve Unpaid as Judges and Clerks to Insure Incorporation.

In order that there may be no hitch in the project for the incorporation of Dewey, on the rock road west of Belleville, patriotic men of the village are volunteering to serve as judges and clerks at the proposed special election without compensation.

Some embarrassment to the project has been occasioned by the unexpected requirement of a deposit to cover the expenses of the election. It is in order to eliminate the necessity for this to a great extent that men are volunteering to serve without compensation.

O. C. Church, one of the leaders in the incorporation movement, denied Thursday that the movement was encouraged by the East St. Louis & Suburban Electric Railway as an offset to the project for the extension of the Belleville city limits to take in Dewey. He said no assistance had been received from the company. The majority of the people of Dewey, he said, preferred to have a town of their own rather than to be annexed to Belleville, even though annexation would give them cheaper carfare.

MEMORIAL FOR MRS. GILBERT

Friends of Famous Actress Plan Erection of Life-Size Statue in Marble.

NEW YORK, April 20.—A movement has been inaugurated here to erect a life-size statue in marble of the late actress, Mrs. J. H. Gilbert. The persons in charge of the scheme, known as the Mrs. Gilbert Memorial Association, include many well-known in America. It is proposed to place the statue either in one of the public parks or upon the grounds of the Actors' Home at Stapleton, Staten Island.

The marble tribute to the famous actress will show her in the character of "Grand" which she was playing in Chicago at the time of her death.

INDIANA SMOKERS RELIEVED

Judge Holds That New Law Applies Only to Dealers in Cigarettes, Not Consumers.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 20.—Cigarette smokers are not liable to arrest in Indianapolis.

"As I interpret the law," Judge Whelan said, "it applies only to dealers who sell cigarettes or cigarette papers. I do not think smokers of cigarettes can be held guilty."

And today forthwith discharged a young man who had been arrested for smoking cigarettes.

Through the state scores of arrests have been made since the law went into effect.

At Princeton, Ind., where there are all cigarette stock and the law denounced. Not a cigarette can be had in Muncie. One young man was fined $5.00. He was appealed to the Supreme court. Stocks were burned last night at Frankfort and many other towns.

HEIRESS BRIDE, 60, WEDS YOUTH OF 18

Mrs. N. O. Griffin of Philadelphia, Worth $1,000,000, Becomes Wife of Coachman.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, April 20.—Bride aged 60, bridegroom aged 18. Bride worth $1,000,000, bridegroom her penniless coachman. Those were the principals in a romantic marriage here. The widow of N. O. Griffin, a Philadelphia merchant, leaning on the arm of her young coachman, appeared at the Episcopal rectory yesterday afternoon and told Rev. Mr. Elliott that they wanted to be married.

The 42 years difference in their ages was so apparent that the clergyman used every effort to dissuade them. It was of no avail, however, and the only answer the woman would make was:

"I don't care if Johnny is only 18. I am 60 and I guess I am old enough to know whether I love him or not."

Finally the minister gave in and the wealthy widow became the wife of John Wood.

Agreement, It Is Said, That Brooks Would Turn State's Evidence in Cases.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

Whitefield Brooks, charged with operating a poolroom and recording bets on horse races, one of the Madison, Ill., poolroom cases, was permitted to plead guilty in the Circuit court of Edwardsville, Ill., Wednesday and was fined $500.

The plea of guilty came after a conference of attorneys for the state and defense, the agreement being reached, it is said, that Brooks would turn state's evidence and disclose before the grand jury what he knew of the operation of the Madison poolroom.

Girl Started for Work, Missing.

Alvina Biehle has been missing from her home, 2718 South Seventh street, for two weeks, and the police are looking for her. She left home in the morning to go to the factory of Eddy & Eddy, 109 Market street, where she is employed, and failed to return. In a description of her appearance it is mentioned that the hair is missing from the left side of her head, having been burned off accidentally.

GATES FORCED TO APPEAL TO ARMOUR

Wheat Deal Reported to Have Become Too Large for Turf Speculator Alone.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, April 20.—It is current gossip that Gates has appealed to Armour, Valentine of the Armour Grain Co. is managing the Gates wheat deal. He distributed orders yesterday, and 2,500,000 bushels were traded in. The deal has reached a point where it is too large for Gates to handle, he having found out that it is different to handle a 2,000,000 bushel wheat deal and a $50,000,000 stock deal in Wall street.

Neither Gates nor Valentine will affirm or deny the report that the Armour interests have been taken into the Gates combine and will handle the cash end of the deal.

If all reports are true the liquidation of the deal is on. Valentine says he does not care to be short while foreign complications are on the mind.

At the time of the Leiter deal collapse, Armour took 8,000,000 bushels of wheat from Leiter.

DOCTOR AMAZED AT MAN'S VITALITY

Bert Humbert of Edwardsville Lives With Skin Taken From Body by Explosion.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

Bert Humbert of Alton, Ill., a mine worker, whose body is devoid of the outer layer of skin as the result of an explosion in the Banner City works, is in a hospital in Edwardsville, Ill., and physicians regard his vitality as remarkable.

Humbert was employed in the clay works drill struck an old charge which exploded, and was drilling a hole in the hard shale, in which to set a blast. The point of his body was removed to the hospital where it was found necessary to remove the outer layer of skin. The examination of the physicians revealed no broken bones.

CLUB INCORPORATES TO ESCAPE CLOSING

St. Louis County Saloon Keepers Get Formal Notices Law Will Be Strictly Enforced.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

To secure exemption from the Sunday closing law enforcement in St. Louis County, the Normandy Golf Club has filed a petition for articles of incorporation in the Circuit Court at Clayton. The officers are Wallace Delafield, president; Edgar M. Wooley, secretary, and W. G. Lackey, treasurer.

Sheriff Herpel's attitude toward incorporated clubs has not yet been announced. He says he is awaiting an opinion from his attorney. Excise Commissioner Mulvihill of St. Louis has said that the law exempts incorporated clubs.

All the proprietors of saloons in St. Louis County have received written notices from Sheriff Herpel notifying them of Gov. Folk's orders that the saloons must be closed Sunday. He also advises them that he will strictly enforce the orders and will arrest anyone found violating the law.
